FedEx Institute Partners with Memphis Technology Foundation to Host Tech Talks

June 1, 2016 – The FedEx Institute is committed to building a technology innovation environment in Memphis that encourages the exchange of ideas from researchers, industry professionals, and passionate individuals from a wide variety of expertise areas. To support this effort, the FedEx Institute is partnering with the Memphis Technology Foundation to host Tech Talks, an evening of lightning talks from the innovators who make things happen.

Join us on June 16th at 6:30 at the FedEx Institute of Technology as the best and brightest show their stuff in 15 minute lightning talks on technology topics that drive innovation in Memphis. This event, free and open to the public, is an opportunity to meet local experts in programming languages, hardware development, emerging technologies, and other technology innovations that take Memphis beyond the edge of what's possible.

The event will include a light dinner for attendees. Come join us at the FedEx Institute of Technology to see what's next. Register here <http://www.meetup.com/memphis-technology-user-groups/events/230661746/>

The FedEx Institute of Technology continues to build their community partnerships and feel they are a critical element in positioning the FedEx Institute of Technology as a hub for technology research and development. The Institute enjoys a unique innovation partnership with FedEx, which sponsors the Institute for advanced research purposes. Got an idea for a lightning talk?
