Veterans Resource Center celebrates grand opening Jan. 22

The University of Memphis' Veterans Resource Center (VRC) will host its grand opening Wednesday, Jan. 22, at 1 p.m. in the Panhellenic Building, room 110. The VRC is a new campus space where veterans and military-related students can relax and study together. The Center will provide a variety of services, including: important campus and community resource information; a lounge area with study space, a mini-fridge and microwave for fellowship and relaxation; computers and a printer for personal and academic use; seminars and outreach events for veterans; and programs to help the campus better understand the sacrifices and challenges of the military student. For more information, contact Adult and Commuter Student Services at 678-2644 or acss@memphis.edu.

C.H. Nash Museum receives AmeriCorps award

The C.H. Nash Museum at Chucalissa has received the Sponsor of the Year award from AmeriCorps (part of the National Civilian Community Corps, or NCCC). The award recognizes the unique role the museum played in coordinating collaborative projects between AmeriCorps teams and community partners in southwest Memphis.

In 2013, two eight-week AmeriCorps NCCC teams were housed at the C.H. Nash Museum and conducted service projects at Chucalissa, the Westwood neighborhood and T.O. Fuller State Park. Most recently, the seven-member River 4 AmeriCorps team performed service projects in southwest Memphis from Oct. 23 through Dec. 9. The projects included rehabbing the house of an 88-year-old World War II veteran resident in Walker Homes, refurbishing the repository at the C.H. Nash Museum, building a pergola and rain shelter at Chucalissa, clearing seven miles of trails and repairing picnic pavilions at T.O. Fuller.

"We are greatly honored to receive this award. Our museum's mission includes being an asset and resource to our community," said museum director Robert P. Connolly. "For the past two years, the AmeriCorps NCCC teams have played a critical role in allowing all of our community agencies to carry out that mission. We look forward to hosting AmeriCorps teams again in 2014."

George Brett will speak at Tiger baseball banquet

Kansas City Royals vice president of operations and Major League Baseball Hall of Famer George Brett will be the featured speaker at the 2014 Meet the Tigers Baseball Banquet Friday, Jan. 17, at the University of Memphis Holiday Inn. Festivities will begin at 7 p.m.

Sponsored by the University of Memphis Bullpen Club, an address by Brett will highlight the evening that will include dinner, preseason comments from head coach Daron Schoenrock and an introduction of the 2014 Tigers roster.

Brett is in his 21st year as the Royals vice president of baseball operations, continuing his long-time association with the organization. He was selected by the Royals in the second round of the 1971 June Free Agent Draft. He spent his entire big league playing career in the Kansas City before moving into the front office after his retirement in 1993.

Brett was inducted into Baseball's Hall of Fame in July 1999 after receiving 98 percent of the votes, the fifth-highest mark in history. He played 21 seasons for the Royals, collecting 3,154 hits, three batting titles and a Most Valuable Player Award.

To purchase tickets for the banquet, call Kim House at 678-4406 or email her at kbhouse@memphis.edu.

The Payroll Office is going green

The Payroll Office is making it easier and faster for employees to receive their W-2s; you may receive your W-2 electronically rather than by postal mail. By opting-in and indicating your consent to receive an electronic version, you can now get your W-2 earlier in January.

The IRS requires each employee's consent to receive their W-2 in this new format. The advantages of this option include: you will receive your W-2 earlier than you would via postal mail; if you lose your W-2, you can go online and view or print it again; and you can view or print W-2s from prior years (2006 and later).

To provide your consent, go to your myMemphis portal at my.memphis.edu. Click on your Employee tab and look for the Employment Details channel. Click the Electronic W-2 Consent link and follow the on-screen prompts. Employees who consent will be notified via e-mail when their electronic W-2s become available online.

If you have any questions, contact the Payroll Office at 678-3841 or payroll@memphis.edu. For those employees who do not choose to receive their W-2s electronically, no action is necessary. Their W-2s will still be printed and mailed via USPS postmarked by Jan. 31.
