

The Southern Journal of

Philosophy

The Southern Journal of Philosophy together with the Department of Philosophy at the University of Memphis, and the Marcus Orr Center for the Humanities, is proud to present:

The 2019 SJP Workshop

The Epistemology of Justice

March 22, Fogelman Executive Center

featuring:

Elizabeth Anderson

"The Epistemology of Justice"
4PM – Fogelman Auditorium 123

"The Sense and Sensibility of Equality"
2:15PM – Fogelman Auditorium 123

& Chris Lebron

The Epistemology of Justice – Program of Events

Friday, March 22

8:00-8:25 Bagel & Coffee breakfast reception

8:25 Opening Remarks

8:30 Session 1 – Fogelman Room 308

Keya Maitra (UNC-Asheville) “Testimonial Injustice and a Case for Mindful Epistemology”

Galen Barry (Iona College) “Morally Respectful Listening and its Epistemic Consequences”

Chair: Susan Dieleman (Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville)

9:40-9:50 Break

9:50 Session 2 – Fogelman Room 308

Ian Werkheiser (UT Rio Grande Valley) “A Right to Understand Injustice”

Joel M. Reynolds (UMass, Lowell) “The Role of Technology in Epistemic Injustices in Healthcare”

Chair: Kate Phelan (RMIT University, Melbourne)

11:00 Lightning Round Presentations: Graduate Student 5-minute talks – Fogelman Room 308

Anthony Holdeir (Arkansas) “Diathetic Injustice”; Emily Bingeman (Dalhousie) “Responsibility and the Pervasiveness of Injustice”; Alex Richardson (UT Knoxville) “Democratizing Epistemology”; Jacob Barrett (Arizona) “Social Reform in a Complex World”

- 11:30 Lunch
- 1:00 Session 3 – Fogelman Room 308
Michael Burroughs (CSU, Bakersfield) “On Taking Children at Their Word”

Fran Fairbairn (Cornell) “Epistemic Injustice and Biomedical Technology”

Chair: Deborah Tollefsen (University of Memphis)
- 2:15 Key Note:

Chris LeBron (Johns Hopkins)

“The Sense and Sensibility of Equality”
Fogelman Auditorium 123
- 3:30 Coffee Reception
- 4:00 Key Note, Simco Lecture, and Marcus Orr Humanities Series Speaker:

Elizabeth Anderson (University of Michigan)

“The Epistemology of Justice”
Fogelman Auditorium 123
- 5:30 Wine reception, Fogelman Lower Atrium
- 7:00 Dinner for workshop participants
- .

The Southern Journal of Philosophy ...a memphis original

Editor

Remy Debes
University of Memphis

Editorial Board

Rachel Barney
University of Toronto

William Blattner
Georgetown University

Tina Chanter
DePaul University

Stephen Gardiner
Washington University

Tamar Szabó Gendler
Yale University

Hannah Ginsborg
University of California,
Berkeley

Sandy Goldberg
Northwestern University

Charles Griswold
Boston University

David Henderson
University of Nebraska

Terry Horgan
University of Arizona

Michelle Kosch
Cornell University

Len Lawlor
Pennsylvania State
University

Catherine Malabou
Université Paris X -
Nanterre

Linda Martín-Alcoff
Hunter College, CUNY

Charles Mills
The Graduate Center,
CUNY

Christopher Pincock
Ohio State University

Gerald Press
Hunter College, CUNY

Tad Schmaltz
University of Michigan

Alan Schrift
Grinnell College

Eric Schliesser
University of Amsterdam

Tommie Shelby
Harvard University

David Shoemaker
Tulane University

Amie Thomasson
University of Miami

Mark Timmons
University of Arizona

Alison Wylie
University of Washington

Gideon Yaffe
Yale University

Jack Zupko
University of Alberta

The Southern Journal of Philosophy published its first issue over 50 years ago. Its masthead featured the following declaration:

"This is the first issue of The Southern Journal of Philosophy. Since a number of philosophical journals already exist, some explanation of its reason for being should be given. It is not for Southern Philosophers in any distinctively regional sense. It will not be confined to any particular set of problems or orientation in philosophy. While we know that this pledge is commonly made and rarely honored, we intend to keep it."

And we have. Over the years, the SJP has maintained this commitment to philosophical pluralism by providing a forum for the expression of philosophical ideas written from a variety of perspectives. The list of notable figures whose work has appeared in these pages—from Hubert Dreyfus and Hans-Georg Gadamer to George Santayana and Wilfrid Sellars—reflects this commitment. Indeed, the SJP is one of only a small handful of journals that regularly publishes original scholarship in both analytic and continental philosophy, as well as the history of philosophy.

About the Journal

The Southern Journal of Philosophy publishes four regular issues a year, and the Spindel Supplement. The journal strives for short review periods and favors submissions less than 10,000 words, though there is no official word limit. Acceptance rate hovers around 10%.

Spindel Supplements

The jewel of each volume is the Spindel Supplement, which features the invited papers and commentaries presented at the annual Spindel Conference. Held each autumn at the University of Memphis and endowed by a generous gift from the Spindel family, each Spindel Conference centers on a philosophical topic of broad interest and provides a venue for discussion by the world's leading figures on that topic.

Forthcoming Programming

In 2018 the SJP launched a new series entitled, "The State of the Question." The series offers critical reviews of current literature on major figures or topics, authored by leading experts, and covers existing challenges, trends, and suggestions for future development. Read existing entries on "Plato" Gerald Press and "Extended Mind" by Shaun Gallagher. Forthcoming contributors include, Lori Watson, Bill Blattner, Lori Gruen and Alice Crary, and Ron Sundstrom

2020 SJP Workshop: "The Ethics of Big Data" featuring Michael Lynch and Josh Fairfield. Watch for the CFP announcement early next Fall!

2021 SJP Workshop: "Human, Animal, Monster: Humanity & the Puzzle of Margins"

Learn more: <https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/journal/20416962>

