Blight Authority of Memphis (BAM) Blight Remediation Strategy for the THDA Blight Elimination Program

The Blight Authority of Memphis' (BAM) Blight Remediation Strategy establishes an implementation strategy for participation in Tennessee Housing Development Agency (THDA)'s Blight Elimination Program (BEP). This report includes existing data analysis, which led to the development of a prioritization plan for residential blight removal in the City of Memphis, consistent with the goals and guidelines of THDA's BEP.

The approach to developing the prioritization plan includes classifying and ranking the list of blighted properties to create a phased approach to demolition and greening of as many high impact properties as resources will allow. Relevant property data was gathered and analyzed in order to develop a clear rationale for prioritizing/categorizing blighted properties. Evaluation criteria were established and used to rank priority properties for targeted blight remediation resources, for consistency with the goals and guidelines of THDA's BEP. The evaluation and prioritization helped lead to a refined recommended strategy for the most impactful use of resources and remediation of blight.

Process

❖ Data Collection & Analysis

- a. Geocode and map a universe of properties to be prioritized for demolition.
- b. Existing conditions on the targeted blighted properties.
- c. Relevant planning data used to develop a clear rational for prioritizing / categorizing active blighted property list and ranking the top 200 blighted properties.

❖ Scoring Criteria & Prioritization

- a. Weighted evaluation criteria in order to calculate priority ranking of properties.
- b. Rationale for prioritizing/categorizing blighted properties that can be used in implementing the blight remediation strategy.
- c. Order of magnitude cost (Demolition costs are based on industry square foot standard for residential demolition of $2.00 to $2.50 per Square Foot).

❖ Recommended Strategy for Demolition

- a. Phased or multi-step approach to remediation for use with THDA Blight Elimination Program funding.
- b. Detailed strategy phases descriptions for priority demolitions involved with the blight remediation strategy for the BEP.

I. Data Collection & Analysis

Using the property lists (condemned and land bank properties) provided by the City of Memphis (September, 2016), as well as the most recent listing (August, 2016) of Shelby County Land Bank (SCLB) properties (including only residential properties with 1-4 unit structures), a total of 630 properties have been geocoded and mapped that might be considered for demolition under BEP funding guidelines.

Data sources include:

- Memphis/Shelby County Property Hub
- Bluff City Snapshot (BCS)
- Shelby County Assessor (SCA)'s roll
- US Census Bureau
- National Register of Historic Places
- Livable Memphis – CD Council

Analysis was conducted using Geographic Information Systems (GIS) software and techniques, including spatial selections, spatial joins, buffer creations, and scripting procedures.

II. Scoring Criteria & Prioritization Strategy

Summary of Methodology and Approach to Prioritizing Properties for BEP Funding

In order to prioritize potential use of demolition funding, each of the 630 properties is assigned a score based on criteria in the following 5 general categories:

- | | |
|--|--------------------|
| • Neighborhood Conditions and Locational Factors | (up to 125 points) |
| • Condemnation Status | (50 points) |
| • Ownership Status | (50 points) |
| • Property Conditions | (up to 50 point) |
| • Code Violations | (up to 25 points) |

The maximum score for a property is 300, with the highest score reflecting the highest priority for demolition funding.

The categories and points system are described below.

Neighborhood Locational Factors:

This category consists of nine components which are intended to represent the stability and revitalization potential of the neighborhood in which each property is located. This category is weighted most heavily among the five main categories because it contains so many elements and because it most reflects the potential for a piece of land to be redeveloped after demolition of a blighted property.

The nine components considered are:

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------------|
| • School proximity | (up to 15 points) |
| • Redevelopment focus areas | (15 points) |
| • Active CDC | (15 points) |

- High visibility corridor (15 points)
- Neighborhood median home value (up to 20 points)
- Sales price change (up to 15 points)
- Population change (up to 15 points)
- Neighborhood blight – “Island” (15 points)
- Neighborhood blight – Concentration (up to 15 points)

School proximity

A property’s location in close proximity to a school was determined by creating three separate buffers of ¼ mile, ¾ mile, and 1 ½ miles around school parcels listed in the SCA tax roll to measure distances from schools. The distance ranges were chosen based on the state policy of the max range (1 ½ miles) by which students cannot ride a bus to school; students living less than 1 ½ miles from a school must either walk, bike, or be dropped off. Eliminating blight hazards near schools lessens potential dangers to those children and families as they walk through the neighborhood and enhances safety.

Points are assigned as follows:

Structure is within ¼ mile or less of school	15 points
Structure is between ¼ mile and ¾ mile of school	10 points
Structure is between ¾ mile and 1 ½ miles of school	5 points

Redevelopment Focus Areas

A property’s location within differing districts or boundaries established by government bodies with a specific purpose of revitalizing or redeveloping those areas for diverse purposes. These are areas such as Tax Increment Financing (TIF) districts and Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP) zip codes. These districts provide specific resources which are only available for redevelopment purposes to revitalize neighborhoods. By focusing on blight in those areas, resources can be more effectively leveraged for greater revitalization potential.

Active CDC

This category focuses on properties located within neighborhoods served by an active CDC and a neighborhood association. This data was retrieved from Livable Memphis which identified the boundaries for all CDCs within the county, whether they were members of the CD Council, and if they were active or not active. By being in a neighborhood with an active CDC properties have stewards who are invested in the community through many different ways, helping to restore the area as a healthy, livable place and working to mitigate the hazards associated with blight.

High Visibility Corridor

Emphasis is placed on properties along high visibility corridors which are defined as: streets and thoroughfares which have either major destinations, go through major districts, have heavy commercial attractions, or are major corridors for travel in and out of the city. A buffer of 150 ft was created around these corridors to select and capture properties which were adjacent to them. Blight along high visibility corridors affects broader perceptions of neighborhoods and the community. Redevelopment of highly visible properties can tip neighborhood and community perceptions in a positive direction.

Neighborhood Median Home Values

Neighborhood median home value (MHV) compares the median home value for a neighborhood (with a census tract serving as proxy for neighborhood) to the median home value for the city. US Census data was used to create a simple proportion. Home values are important in understanding the potential for redevelopment in an area. Properties in neighborhoods with above average home values have a greater market potential to push out reoccurring effects of blights and enhance redevelopment after demolition.

Points are assigned as follows:

Neighborhood MHV is between 100% & 115% of the City MHV	10 points
Neighborhood MHV is between 115% and 130% of the City MHV	15 points
Neighborhood MHV is greater than 130% of the City MHV	20 points

Sales Price Change

This component considers whether properties are located in areas where values are increasing, based on recent sales prices. Data are used from SCA tax rolls for three benchmark years (2007, 2011, and 2015). Data from the benchmark years were aggregated using the average sales value based on census tract, and looking at the change in sales value from 2011 to 2015 for only qualified sales. Sales price changes provide evidence of whether or not a neighborhood is improving/revitalizing, stable, or declining. Properties in neighborhoods (census tracts) that are improving or revitalizing should be a higher priority for demolition funding.

Points are assigned as follows:

Increasing (change of 20% or higher)	15 points
Stability (change of 0 to 20%)	10 points
Decreasing (any negative change)	0 points

Population Change

Population change provides another indicator of neighborhood stability or improvement/revitalization. This uses census information to measure the percent change of population of neighborhoods (census tracts) from 2010 to 2014. Properties in neighborhoods (census tracts) that are improving or revitalizing should be a higher priority for demolition funding.

Points are assigned as follows:

Increasing (change of 1% or higher)	15 points
Stable (change between -1 and 1 %)	10 points
Declining (change of -1% or less)	0 points

Neighborhood Blight – Islands

This component considers whether a property on the list is likely to be a single occurrence of blight in an otherwise stable area. Properties are considered “islands” if there are no “other blighted properties” within a radius of around 1,500ft. “Other blighted properties” are defined as those receiving a Bluff City Snapshot rank of 4 or 5. Failing to address these “island” properties could be the tipping point for a neighborhood into further decay.

Neighborhood Blight – Concentrations

This component identifies properties that are in close proximity to one another, and form a cluster of deteriorating parcels. An overlay grid is used to determine areas with concentrations of properties from the list of 630. Points are awarded to properties on the list that are in high concentration areas, defined by a percentage of the total properties within about a 2 square mile cell. This component can be used to develop overall priorities and to develop an approach to blight eradication by geography.

Points are assigned as follows:

High Concentration (Cells with 45 or more properties from the list)	15 points
Medium Concentration (Cells with between 20 and 44 properties)	10 points
Low Concentration (Cells with between 8 and 19)	5 points

Condemnation Status:

Condemnation status is a major element of the BEP guidelines and the major criteria in the BEP Property Condition Checklist for consideration of blight. Properties listed as condemned in the lists provided by the City of Memphis were given 50 points.

Ownership Status:

Ownership status is included for pragmatic reasons. Focusing on properties that are publicly owned (including Shelby County land bank properties) or owned by Community Development Corporations (CDC) will eliminate (or greatly reduce) cost of acquisition and increases the likelihood of acquiring an insurable title to the property. Properties that are publicly owned or owned by a CDC were given 50 points.

Property Conditions:

This category uses data from the Bluff City Snapshot (BCS) and the property conditions ranking from the most recent Shelby County Assessor's (SCA) dataset. A high score in this category indicates a property in seriously blighted condition (regardless of the conditions of its surrounding neighborhood). BCS rankings reflect exterior conditions. SCA data included ratings for functional utility, physical conditions, and structure grade which were used to create an aggregate rating of interior conditions. An automatic max score was given to properties that are condemned since being condemned bypasses the need for the property condition checklist.

Points are awarded as follows:

BCS ranking of 5 (most blighted)	25 points
BCS ranking of 4	20 points
BCS ranking of 3	15 points
BCS ranking of 2	10 points
BCS ranking of 1 (least blighted)	5 points
SCA interior condition Unsound	25 points
SCA interior condition Very Poor	20 points
SCA interior condition Poor	15 points
SCA interior condition Fair	10 points

Code Violations:

This reflects whether there are legal compliance issues with each property, including the number of Code Enforcement/Public Works ticket violations associated with each property.

Points are awarded as follows:

Over 20 code violations	25 points
Between 15 and 20 code violations	20 points
Between 10 and 14 code violations	15 points
Between 9 and 5 code violations	10 points
Between 4 and 2 code violations	5 points
1 or less code violations	0 points

III. Blight Remediation Strategy

Multi-step Demolition Strategy for Blight Remediation

If it is not possible to pursue action on the top 200 prioritized properties, the following phased approach should be considered for scaled implementation as funds and time allow.

Due to the extent and prevalence of Blight within the City of Memphis a multi-step approach to blight remediation is necessary in order to implement a successful strategy toward blight elimination. As part of the multi-step strategy, dual components are often needed in order to tackle blight from multiple facets to reach full remediation potential in blight reduction from several neighborhoods. There are four recommended steps for blight elimination which require continual assessment and review, that can often be undertaken simultaneously:

- 1. Removal of highly ranked “Islands” of blight within neighborhoods to eliminate singular instances of deterioration on blocks or in neighborhoods.
- 2.
 - a. Removal of highly ranked condemned properties that have received high neighborhood locational values.
 - b. Removal of highly ranked blighted properties within grid zones identified as being high concentration areas.
- 3.
 - a. Removal of highly ranked properties which have high values for neighborhood locational factors. A special focus is placed on those properties within priority redevelopment neighborhoods, along high visibility corridors, and within neighborhoods with increasing sales values and population to maximize revitalization potential.
 - b. Removal of properties existing within active CDC boundary locations which have severely blighted condition ratings.
- 4. Removal of properties based on their prioritization ranking to eliminate remaining properties.

 Note: Each step of the remediation strategy also carries the awareness that properties located within close proximity should be demolished during the same phase/time-frame in order to maximize efficiency and minimize costs. If two properties are side by side, they should be demolished together, or if multiple properties exist within the same block or in close proximity, such properties should undergo removal simultaneously. **

Following the end of each step the blighted property database should be reassessed and reevaluated in order to incorporate new or changing blight situations. Reassessment should include: which properties have undergone removal, if there exist new properties to be incorporated to the universe, and if the strategy needs to be adjusted or modified to be more effective and efficient.

The blight remediation strategy steps are detailed below.

1. Islands of Blight:

Removal of highly ranked “islands” of blight becomes important in initiating a full-scale blight remediation process. Due to the nature of “islands” of blight they present a logical starting point for blight removal. Through their elimination support and momentum can be built for continued efforts.

“Islands” should be targeted by prioritization rank order, or based on condition value, code violations, then neighborhood locational factors. The second method of using select values over the total score allows for more preference to be given to physical characteristics and locational factors rather than all scores.

2a. Condemned Properties:

Removal of highly ranked condemned properties should be the next step following targeted removal of “islands” of blight. Directing energies toward removing condemned properties will help in making sure that dangerous and unsound properties within neighborhoods do not pose any sustained problems.

Since these properties will have or are going through the legal process of condemnation they will need to be demolished shortly thereafter. In targeting condemned properties with high locational values more leverage can be positioned in redevelopment efforts after demolition.

2b. High Concentration Zones:

Demolition of highly ranked properties within high concentration zones become a priority based on geography. In focusing on densely blighted areas, highly ranked properties should be targeted first to remove the most systematic instances of blight to help with neighborhood revitalization and beautification.

3a. Properties in Revitalizing Areas:

Remediation of highly ranked properties that are in key redeveloping neighborhoods should be the next area of focus. Preference should be given to properties that have high scores for conditions and code violations along with the neighborhood locational factors that focus specifically on redevelopment and revitalization.

Properties within redevelopment focus boundary areas, neighborhoods with increasing sales values, a large MHV, and increasing populations should be targeted. This approach would allow for enhanced redevelopment potential during and after demolition of the remediation process.

3b. Active CDC Areas:

Removal of highly ranked properties that are in neighborhoods with active CDCs is another priority.

The conditions of structures within the active CDC neighborhoods becomes the focus. Targeting housing based on the characteristics of blight becomes the main goal for CDC areas; along with physical blight, high code violation properties should also be concentrated on.

4. Prioritization Rank Order:

Removal of highly ranked properties following prioritization ranking to eliminate any remaining blighted structures.

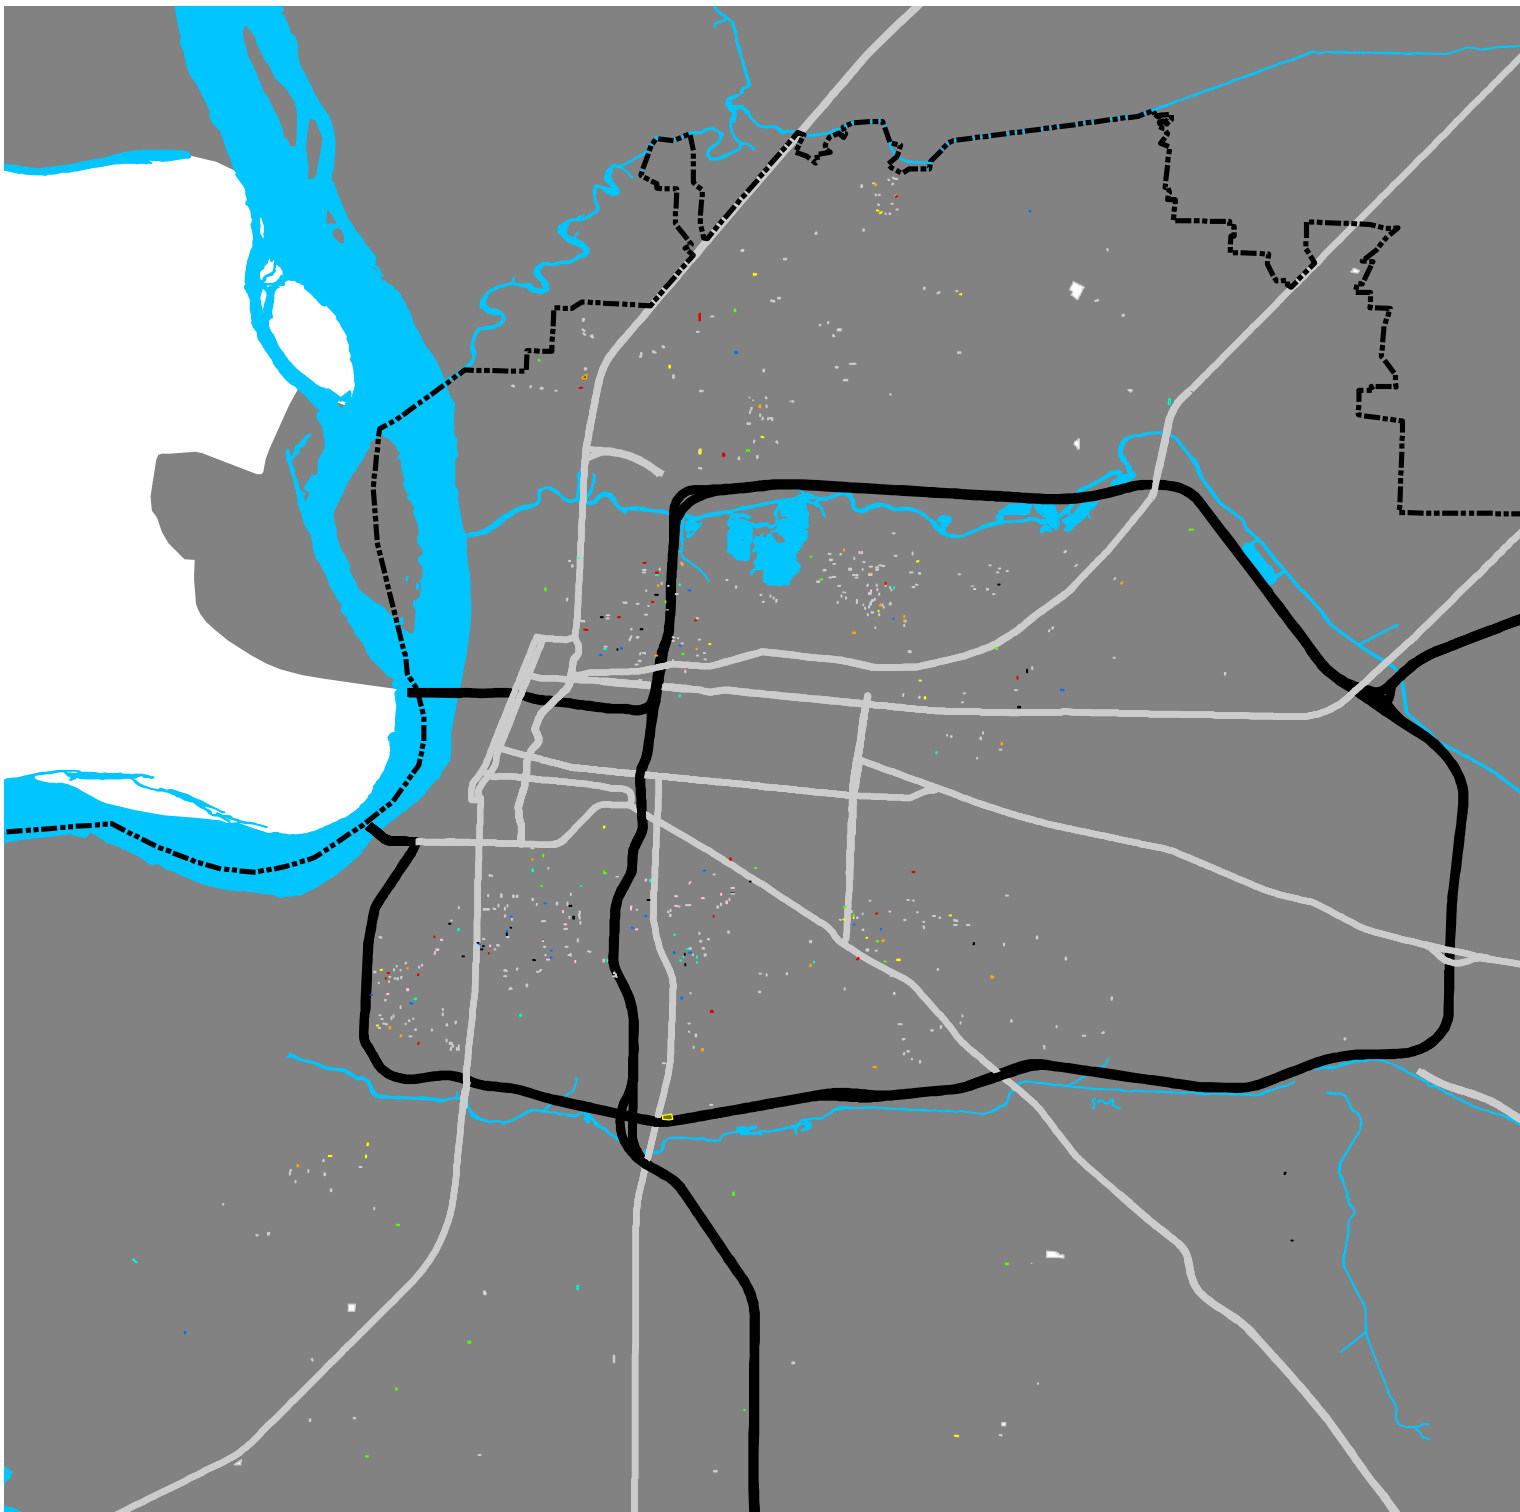

Primarily, this phase would be followed at the end once a thorough undertaking of remediation efforts has been accomplished. The focus would be placed upon properties which are of low value, but still pose hazards to neighborhoods in the form of blight. Often these would be properties which exist outside of any concentration zone, and do not fall within specific value categories, such as “islands” or within redevelopment focus zones.

It is during this step that readjustments and reassessments should take place if not already completed. New properties should be considered for blight remediation potential during reassessment and whether the overall strategy phases have been successful.
